Judge Montague Dead—Gov. Drew in Washington—Bank of France Statement—Chickens Coming Home to Roost.

RICHMOND, Va., March 4.—Hon. Robert L. Montague died suddenly yesterday at his home in Middlesex county, aged sixty-three years. He was Lieutenant-Governor of the State with Gov. He was widely known as a lawyer of marked ability, and was held in the highest esteem by the people of Virginia.

Brick Pomeroy's Party Holds a Convention.

ST. LOUIS, March 4.—The National Convention of the Union Greenback labor party known as the Brick Pomeroy faction will be held here to-day. A secret meeting was held last night at which L. Chestry, of New Hampshire, was selected to be chairman of the Convention.

There is an element in favor of adjourning the Convention and forming an alliance with the National Greenback party which meets at Chicago, June 9, and another element favorable to an adjournment after the declaration of principles, but Hugo Preyer and other leaders say these elements are not strong enough to carry out their schemes. They have come to nominate a ticket and are going to do it.

Prospects of a New Party.

Springfield Republican.

It will be a great mistake for the Democrats to nominate Tilden; also for the Republicans to nominate Grant. It will be the lowest pitch ever reached in the history of the two parties. But to the independents it promises the great opportunity of a new movement, the opening for a third party, the field for a new cause. It is almost the only situation which invites a third party and will give it at the first poll hundreds of thousands of votes.

The Two-Thirds Rule.

San Antonio Express.

The rule is antagonistic to the Democratic principle that the will of the majority should prevail, and should be abolished. Its effect can only be to place power in the hands of a minority to thwart the wishes of the majority, and compel that majority to accept a candidate who is not their preference. Therefore, we trust the people of this district will vote emphatically in favor of allowing the majority to control our conventions.

The Seal of Primacy.

Washington Post.

Troublesome correspondents of Western journals are trying to find out what the venerable Timothy O. Howe meant when he wrote to the North American Review of General Grant: "The eager world has set the seal of primacy on him." As Mr. Carpenter holds Mr. Howe's seat in the Senate, this conundrum may properly be passed to him. And it may be proper for Mr. Carpenter to indicate the precise locality of the General's august person on which the seal was set. In astute matters it is always his will to be exact and definite.

The Lost Simmons.

Willie Felton stood on the burning deck, eating 'simmons by the peck, whence all but him and little Aleck and Bennie had fled. The flames that lit the battle battle-wreck shone round him o'er the dead for about a minute, then there came a fearful explosion, and Simmons, O, where was he!

Mayor Patton, of New Orleans, has informed the Louisiana Legislature that Henry Herdenheim, the only Republican member of the House from that city, proposed to Major J. H. Behan, on Saturday last, for $3,500 to arrange with the committee on city affairs such action as would retain the present local administration in place until their term expires, or for $7,000 to retain them in place four years longer. An investigation is ordered.

The Western Union Telegraph Company have served notice on the attorneys for the Gould party at Kansas City that they will apply to-day for an order commanding them to restore their telegraph lines in Kansas recently seized in violation of the injunction. The seizure of the lines in question is generally denounced in Kansas as a high-handed outrage. The Western Union people ridicule the idea that a forcible possession of the lines can be maintained for any length of time, and say that the seizure was only a game of Gould's bluff.

An Effort to Secure the Ohio Delegation for Mr. Blaine.

New York World.

WASHINTON, March 1.—It is reported here to-night that a call will be issued in a day or two for the Ohio Republican Convention to meet on March 25. This programme is believed to have been originated and matured here since the Utica Convention, and it will shortly be seen, unless all signs fail, to be the first bold step of Mr. Blaine's friends toward securing pledged delegations to the Chicago Convention. Mr. Blaine was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel during the Utica Convention, and to his skill and energy in rallying and advising his friends from that point is credited the surprisingly bold stand taken at Utica against Mr. Conkling. It was said after the convention that Mr. Blaine had expressed himself as wishing for nothing better for his own cause than a few more such victories for General Grant. But if he said anything of the kind the sudden project to call the Ohio Convention indicates that he did not believe it. If Mr. Blaine can secure the Ohio delegation, the consequences upon the alleged boom of Secretary Sherman are obvious.

MIDNIGHT MISSILES.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 46TH CONGRESS.

Removal of Causes from State to Federal Courts---The Fourteenth Amendment as Affecting Indians--Fitz Porter.

By Telegraph to the News.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Senator M. C. Pherson, presented a petition of many shoe menufacturers of New Jersey against the extension of the McKay Sewing machine patent.

Senator Conkling presented a petition of the ship owners representing several million of dollars invested in the shipping interest remonstrating against the passage of any bill to introduce any foreign bought vessels, and to give them American regularities and deeming such introduction unjust to our own interests.

Also a memorial of one thousand one hundred and fifty-eight of the leading representatives of foreign commerce of this country residing abroad and asking an amendment of the statute designed to remove onerous burdens imposed on American commerce by law requiring the payment of three months wages to seamen discharged abroad.

Senator Hereford, from the committee on Commerce, reported, with amendment, bill making Tampa, Fla., a port of entry. Placed on calendar.

Senator Morgan introduced a joint resolution, reciting the 14th amendment to the Constitution, and declaring that children born in the United States are persons within that amendment: and citizens of the United States, and of States wherein they reside.

The object of the resolution, Mr. Morgan said, was to determine and fix the relations of Indians to the government of the United States.

It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Jones, of Florida, from the committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, reported favorably upon the bill for the erection of public buildings at Charleston, West Virginia. Placed on the calendar.

The morning hour having expired the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill of Fitz John Porter,

Senator Logan continued his speech in opposition to the bill, reviewing at length the evidence presented to the court-martial by which Porter was tried, and endeavored to show that Porter unintentionally disregarded General Pope's orders on account of personal ill-feeling toward him.

HOUSE.

The Speaker announced the regular order to be the consideration of the bill regulating the removal of causes from State to Federal Courts. The question was on the amendment offered by Mr. Culberson, of Texas, and was agreed to without division.

(It amends section 2 of the act to determine the jurisdiction of United States Circuit Courts so as to read as follows: Section 2, That any suit of civil motion at law or in equity arising under the constitutional laws or treaties made, or which shall be made under their authority, of which the Circuit Courts of the United States are given original jurisdiction by the preceding section which may now be pending or may hereafter be brought in any State court, may be removed by defendant or defendants therein to the Circuit Court of the United States for the proper district whenever it is made to appear from the application of such defendant or defendants that his or their defence depends in whole or in part on a correct construction of some provision of the constitution or laws of the United States, or a treaty made by their authority, and any other suit at law or in equity in which the Circuit Courts of the United States are given jurisdiction by the preceding section, which are now pending or may hereafter be brought in any State court, may be removed to the Circuit Court of the United States for the proper district by the defendant or defendants; and it is therein provided that such defendant or defendants are now residents of the State in which suits are pending.)

The amendment offered by the minority of the Committee on Judiciary making the minimum amount involved in a suit to be $500, in order that the United States Circuit Courts may have original jurisdiction, instead of $2,000 as proposed by the bill, was rejected.

An amendment was offered by the minority allowing the United States Circuit Courts to take original cognizance of any suit of a civil nature, arising under the patent and copyright laws between the corporation and a citizen of the State in which the corporation was carrying on the business, was agreed to without division.

The minority amendment striking out the clause prohibiting the United States Circuit Courts from taking original cognizance of any suit between a corporation and a citizen of a State, except in cases arising under the patent and copyright laws, and in like cases in which said courts are authorized to take original cognizance of in suits between citizens of a State, was rejected—yeas 68, nays 167.

The minority amendment was adopted, providing that this act shall not affect the jurisdiction over, or disposition of, any suit removed from the court of any State, or a suit commenced in any United States Court before the passage hereof.

The bill was then passed by yeas 163, nays 75.

The Speaker then proceeded to call the committees for reports.

A large number of bills were reported adversely from the committee on War Claims and laid on the table.

Mr. Muldrow, of Mississippi, from the committee on Private Land Claims, reported a bill confirming to J. H. Epling and others a title to certain lands on the right bank of the Mississippi river, opposite New Orleans. Passed.

Mr. Aiken, of South Carolina, from the committee on Agriculture, reported a bill making the Department of Agriculture an executive department of the Government.

Pending the action thereon the morning hour expired.

The House then, by a vote of 127 to 102, refused to take up the special order, which was the Political Assessments bill, and went into a Committee of the Whole on the public calendar.

Mr. Wood, of New York, then proceeded to address the committee on the Funding bill. At the conclusion of his remarks the committee rose.

Mr. Gillette, of Iowa, asked and obtained leave to have printed the bill to provide for the payment of the public debt, which he said he would offer as a substitute for the Wood Funding bill.

The House adjourned.

No Time to Waste.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Grant men should not waste any more time arguing with the anti-third term lunkheads. We've got the bulge on the boys and mean to keep it. On with the boom.

The Railroad Sale.

Correspondence of the News.

RALEIGH, March 4.—We presume your readers know that a proposition has been made to purchase the State's interest in the Western North Carolina Railroad, and for the completion of the road by Mr. Best and others. A brief account of the North Carolina Railroad may not be uninteresting to many persons too young to remember it, beginning about forty-five years ago.

President Caldwell, of our State University, suggested the importance of a railroad from Beaufort harbor to the Tennessee line near Paint Rock. It was wise counsel and ought to have been carried out. At that time there was not one railroad in America; it was designed as a State road, and would have accomplished more for North Carolina that the great Erie canal for New York.

The people of Tennessee were to extend the railroad from Paint Rock to the Mississippi river at Memphis; a ship canal connecting the water of Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds with Beaufort harbor. The people saw the great necessity of the work; to give the Western farmers a good road to market, to build up our seaport towns and stop emigration to the Western and Southern States. An internal improvement convention was held at Raleigh; the East and West sent delegates to the convention. Your subscriber was among the youngest members of the convention, and, as far as I know, the only survivor. I remember the principal speakers—Gov. Iredell, Gaven Hogg, Gov. Swayne, Willis Alston, Louis D Harvey, Hugh McQueen. The estimate to build the road was about five million dollars, labor, iron and provisions being then at very reduced prices. The State was out of debt and required only about $75,000 to carry on government, which may seem almost incredible to many now. The farmers from the West paid the value of their wheat to haul it to market. Columbia, Charleston and Augusta, Georgia, were their market towns, and we believe it was many years before our Legislators could be convinced of the importance of the road, and not before two railroads were built across the State. We have sometimes thought that South Carolina and Virginia would gladly have built them if it had been proposed, and saved the people of N. C. the expense. It is now proposed to sell the Western Section and the Legislature will soon decide the question, we yield to no man in State pride, have long and anxiously desired to see the road finished to the Tennessee line as origin lly designed. We would much prefer that our people could own and hold all our works of internal improvements if consistent with their interests.

We are now told for the the first time by those in authority, composed of the Representatives of our State Government, that the people will not consent to be further taxed to extend the road beyond Asheville, and that the impaired condition of our people forbid it, and perhaps for many years to come. The question now is, shall the road stop at Asheville, or be sold with proper guarantees.

We trust that the people of North Carolina will express their opinions on the subject before the Legislature convenes. P. R. H.

Senator Bayard as a Candidate.

Mobile Register.

The feeling of Mr. Bayard is by no means diminishing. The Cincinnati Enquirer thinks there is too much dignity in it. It should have said there is too much honesty in it to suit the little demagogues who always stand ready to throw off principle in order to catch plunder.

Wilmington Every Evening.

We will venture the assertion that not a single man can be found in the United States who last Monday desired Mr. Bayard's nomination and election who does not desire the same to-day. The only people who are at all excited over that speech are those who were opposed to his nomination before they ever saw it.

Pittsburg Leader.

The men who uttered dangerous sentiments in '61 and have since stood high in the regard of the Republican party and the nation may be counted by the score. Shall Bayard be shelved for the mistake of '61, in favor of the income-dodging, railroad-wrecking, fraud-ciphering Tilden, or that sly Knight of the Golden Circle, Hendricks, or the demagogue Thurman?

Richmond State.

We have not taken Mr. Bayard up in the South as our favorite because he was our worst enemy during the war, nor because he was our best friend, but because he is one against whom neither of these objections can be strongly urged on either side of the line, and because he is a man in every respect fitted for the once lofty position, and whose election would bring back the traditions of the office, re-establish the Government on its original plan and restore its prestige in every part of the country by re-uniting the people.

New York Star.

Notwithstanding the Sun's dastardly attack, instigated by Samuel J. Tilden, Mr. Bayard's extraordinary popularity among Independent Republicans and non-partisan voters is steadily increasing. A prominent Republican politician at Battleboro offers to bet that if Bayard and Grant are the two opposing candidates the former will carry the State of Vermont by a large majority. Evidently, if the Sun and Mr. Tilden want to kill off the Delaware Senator, they must try some other means.

The Mecklenburg Members.

Charlotte Press.

The Mecklenburg members of the Legislature are for a sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad, but it is probable that only one of them, with the present light, is in favor of a sale to Best & Co.

The People of Rutherford Unanimous.

Asheville Journal.

The people of Rutherford county are almost unanimous for the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad, and declare that they will not support any candidate who will not pledge himself against making any appropriations to carry the work further than Asheville.

For the School Bill.

Kinston Journal.

A good education will be worth more to the next generation than all the State's railroad interest.

Funny.

The Asheville Journal predicts that the Democrats will sell the Western North Carolina Railroad to Best & Co., and then (after the election) stop the work by injunction, etc. That's funny, but not nearly so much so the following from the same paper:

"The friends of Lieutenant-Governor Robinson, as well as he himself, well remember the promise that was made to him at Raleigh, that if he would not contend for Congressional honors, so that Mr. R. B. Vance would have no obstacle to overcome, the road should be built through his country, and that he might tell his people so. Now, Gov. Robinson, what do you say—yea, what can you say to your people?"

COWLEY IN PRISON GARB.

DETAILED TO WORK IN THE SHOE SHOP.

After Waiting in Vain for a Rescue, He Determines to Work Hard and Make the Best of It.

N. Y. Sun.

Yesterday morning the Rev. Edward Cowley had eaten his thick slice of prison bread and drunk his cup of coffee, condensed milk, and sugar, and was stretched on his back on the cot in cell No. 12 in the Toombs, reading a newspaper. He was disturbed by a visit from Under Sheriff Joel O. Stevens and Deputy Sheriff C. K. Smith, who notified him that he must hurry his preparations for transfer to the penitentiary.

"Does my counsel know?" he asked, without concealing his surprise and agitation.

"I suppose he does," was the reply.

"And am I to go with—with the—the others?" he asked, referring to the journey that many fellow prisoners were about to undertake in the prison wagon. He was told that he would go by street car with the deputy Sheriff. Hastily gathering his belongings and making a bundle of them, he put on a rusty black overcoat, and a small derby hat. Then he stepped out upon the prison floor; the Under Sheriff who had shown the Warden the commitment paper gave that official a receipt for the prisoner, and the clergyman and his keeper walked to the outer office. The Rev. Mr. Cowley paused a moment, and then walked over to Warden Finn and asked him to send a postal card to Mrs. Cowley telling her what had occurred. The clergyman and Deputy Sheriff Smith walked up Center street to Canal street, and then took the cars of the Third Avenue Railroad to Twenty-eighth street. In the cars the clergyman wrote messages on two postal cards, addressing them, and held them in his hand. When he left the cars he mailed the cards at a branch post office in Third avenue. Thence the two men went to the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, and sat in the saloon of the steamboat Minnehanock, which was to carry them to Blackwell's Island. On the way to the boat he said:

No other prisoners for the penitentiary were on the boat. The passengers were visitors, officials, patients, and paupers. The Rev. Mr. Cowley was recognized by Captain Steele, who knew him when he was chaplain of the island. This was nine years ago. Then Mr. Cowley preached to the prisoners in the penitentiary every Sunday. He was removed at the request of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, because he refused to visit the sick in the small-pox hospital. On Blackwell's Island he was led by the river road from the hospital pier to the office of the penitentiary. He was at once taken into the receiving room, which is also the barber shop, bath room, and store room for clothing. Warden Fox came in and shook hands with him. The Warden told him he would do what he could for him.

Ordinarily a prisoner who arrives at the penitentiary is quickly dealt with, but the Rev. Mr. Cowley asked for a delay because he expected to be returned to the city on a writ of habeas corpus that he said he felt sure his counsel would obtain. The prison officials have learned by experience that these writs usually follow the prisoner instantly, but rather than have the writ come and find the clergyman shaved and shorn, and thus give excuse for the suspicion that he was being persecuted, the Warden waited an hour and a half. At 1:30 o'clock he ordered the prison ceremony begun. Mr. Cowley showed great self-command.

"I am sorry to have come here of all places," said he to the Warden, "but now that I am here I have determined to resign myself to what is expected of me. I will take the bull by the horns and make the best of it."

Warden Fox commended this resolution. In kindly tones he advised the prisoner to do his best while in the prison. "It will be better for all of us," said the Warden. "if, when you put on the prison shoes, you walk under the guidance of our rules. Do you work well, obey every rule, and give no keeper at any time the right to find fault with you."

There are two barber's chairs in the receiving room. Into one of these Mr. Cowley climbed, and a convict barber cut his long, grizzly hair close to his head, and shaved off his long and well-combed beard and whiskers. The clothing he took off was bundled up, marked, and put in one of the thousand boxes that are kept for that purpose. When he emerged from the bath the clergyman put on the pair of black and white striped trousers that were laid out for him. Then he put on a striped shirt, and was told to stand on the scales in front of the desk. His weight was recorded, and he was led to a pole in the corner, against which he stood to be measured. He was asked a few questions, and his answers contributed to the prison record that was first noted on the back of the commitment paper and then copied in the prison blotter. It reads as follows:

Cowley, Edward; 52 years old; 1 year and $250 fine of 250 days imprisonment; height, 5 feet 2½ inches; weight, 137 pounds; crime, cruelty to a child; color of hair, gray; color of eyes, gray; complexion dark; native of England; in the U. S. 40 years; married; educated Protestant; occupation, minister; committed, February 20th; received March 2.

From the barber shop he went with the Warden to the shoe-shop and there an hour afterward he was experimenting on a piece of leather with a punch such as railroad conductors use. A young convict bent over him and explained how to use the punch. Out of the corners of their eyes the other convict workmen stole frequent glances at their new companion. His friends would not have recognized him. Shaving has added ten years to his appearance, his face is streaked with rigid lines, his cheeks are sunken and his head is veay bald. He looked up, and when his eyes met those of his visitors he returned their gaze steadily. "He is very game," every keeper said.

At 5 o'clock the reporter saw him again. This time he was in the prison building with 800 other convicts eating mush and molasses. When the meal was over the squad of men to which he belonged backed out from between the tables and stood in line against the wall. The convicts walk with a lock step as a preventive against disorder. The line in which Cowley stood moved like two centipedes. It should have moved liked one, but the clergyman could not master the step. He studied the legs and feet of the others, and tried to do as they did, but a gap remained either ahead of or behind him all the time. The squad of convicts walked to the second corridor, along which are their cells. Every man is supposed to stand in the doorway of his cell, hold the door a little ajar, and at a signal all the doors must close together with a concerted bang. Mr. Cowley's cell is No. 5. He stopped at No. 4, but the rightful occupant gently guided him along, and convict No. 6 nudged him into No. 5. Mr. Cowley forgot about the door, but No. 6 ran out of his cell, swung Mr. Cowley's door to, put Mr. Cowley's hand on its grating, and then nodded to him encouragingly and with a smile. The leader, No. 1, looked along the line and called out, "Shut!" There was a loud bang, and every door but Mr. Cowley's closed. Then Mr. Cowley's door closed with a noise like the echo of the first concussion.

On the door of his cell is a tag on which is written his name, age, crime, and the fact that this is the first time in that prison. This cell of Mr. Cowley's is not more than five feet wide, and contains nothing but a bed. His cell in the Toombs was more than twice as large. He will not have as good food in the penitentiary as he had in the Toombs. For breakfast he will have rye coffee, sweetened with molasses, and eight ounces of bread. He had condensed milk and sugar in his coffee in the Toombs. For dinner he will have a pint and a half of soup, some meat, and bread. For supper his diet alternates between coffee and bread and mush and molasses.

UNCLE SAMMY TILDEN.

His Physical Infirmities---Eyelids That Droop and a Helpless Left Arm.

Howard's Letter in McClure's Times.

Uncle Sammy may be seen every day driving through the Park in a coupe, and generally with ex-Comptroller Green. I have seen it stated somewhere that Mr. Tilden's infirmities are apparent only, and that this eye-drooping business is due solely to an infelicitous arrangement of the nerve in his eyelid, and that his inability to use his left arm and hand is due to habit and not to paralysis. One man will tell you that he is utterly played out, gone in and gone up, and must soon step down and out, and the very next person you meet will tell you that he is mentally more alert and physically more sturdy than he has been in many years. But seeing, my brethren, is believing, and I have repeatedly seen Mr. Tilden when he was not on parade and didn't imagine that any one was studying him, and if he is a specimen of physical sturdiness, why the quicker impotency seizes the rest of us the better, for of all the shaky old parties I ever met he is entitled to the palm. Now, mind you, I have a high regard and respect for Tilden as a smart bit of acute mentality, but when you suggest to me that he deserves a donation as an Apollo, and that Samson was a mere flyspeck to him, I beg leave to differ. Whatever may be the cause, his drooping eyes give him an idiotic expression. Whatever may be the cause, he is utterly and absolutely unable to use his left arm and hand at the table or in dressing, or in any of the manipulate processes which are facilitated by the possession and use of two good square hands.

He walks slowly and with a kind of spi ait, which may be habit but which I believe to be due to partial paralysis. He talks in an undertone most embarrassing to people who listen to him, and if it is a habit only it is an infernally bad one, and a most ungentlemanly one. That he is just as bright and as quick-witted a man as we have in this country, I believe. He is sharp, and so is a needle. The old gentleman has had a good deal to worry him this winter. Oh, no. There is no use in falsifying or varnishing the truth—Mr. Tilden is an old man; he is feeble and he is physically played out. If he were to be forced, or if he were to insist upon going into another Presidential campaign, I believe that either victory or defeat would kill him. What influence that prediction might have on a convention of well disposed Democrats I, of course, don't know; but that an expensive and even an ostentatious funeral ceremony would cheerfully be paid for by some of Mr. Tilden's apparently most devoted adherents I have no doubt. At home he is hospitable, kind, and a good old man. His collection of engravings is marvelous. As a bookworm he is famous. Some of his treasures are invaluable. His autograph copies are numerous, and the man who could be bored and ennuled if left for hours alone in Mr. Tilden's library would be just the sort of a man that I should imagine would go to a masque-aside ball in a baby's frock. No one can say a word to Mr. Tilden's disparagement outside of politics and business. If he were not incrusted by a shell of distrust, lack of confidence, and everlasting, corroding suggestions, he would be a genial, sedate, and decorous old man. As it is, he isn't.

Some New French Views of the Lesseps Scheme.

New York World.

A gentleman in Washington has received a letter dated February 12th, from a scientist in the interior of France, from which the following is an extract:

But with a man like M. de Lesseps, filled with vanity and pride, other arguments will be necessary than a simple exposition of the want of economy of his scheme. He has all the ability of the French character, and to adroitness and boldness he unites the finesse and astuteness of the Orientals with whom he has passed a considerable part of his life. He really thinks that he can lead the Americans with the same success as the Orientals—in which he will find himself in error.

On his return to France M. de Lesseps will make a great agitation to float a second subscription. The French financers are not favorable to him, and it will be sufficient for the Government of the United States to declare itself against his project for him not to have any chance of deceiving the public. He is a dangerous man because his addresses are in sentiments of generosity and glory—always so powerful and inspiring in France.

An old and influential member of the Geographical Society of Paris in November last wrote a letter of complaint and regrets to the Council that the Society had lent its name and influence to an engineering project which did not concern it in any way. A lively discussion followed, and the author of the letter was informed that the society was fully awakened to the dangers of its co-operation and that M. de Lesseps will find great opposition in the future.

Entirely Unnecessary.

New York Tribune.

It is announced that Mr. Tilden will issue a manifesto presently defining his position. This is unnecessary. That dispatch to Cincinnati for 200 rooms and 60 parlors is of itself a very able manifesto.

Press Censorship in Russia.

The Russian subscribers to foreign newspapers are not always sure of getting their money's worth. In the London Times for Feb. 3, before it was delivered to those who were looking for it the censorship coolly cut out two whole pages of news, four columns from other pages were also cut out, and other columns so blacked and disfigured by the stamping-out process that a correspondent scraped a spoonful of lampblack from the space of a single column. This sort of re-editing exceeds any of the rough-and-ready managing editor processes that were ever heard of.

BAYARD'S BACKBONE.

SENATOR BAYARD ON HIS SPEECH OF 1861.

"I am in Favor of this Country Keeping at Peace with itself---I am Opposed to Internecine Strifes."

Special Dispatch to the Philadelphia Record.

WASHINGTON, February 29.—The attempt of the enemies of Senator Bayard to make political capital against him by publishing the peace speech which he made in 1861, and by accusing him of having been disloyal to the Union, has fallen very flat here. The Senator's steadfast and unswerving devotion to the Union is so well known by all who have any acquaintance whatever with him that the effort to besmirch him is rated at its true value as a political trick. The only interest which attaches to it arises from the very general belief which exists here that Mr. Tilden was the instigator of this attack on Mr. Bayard. Senator Bayard himself is not troubled by the attack. In conversation with your correspondent to-night on the subject, and in reply to a question as to whether he intended to make any reply to a question as to whether he intended to make any reply to the charges which have been published, he said: "The speech itself is my reply, and that has been published. I stood in 1861 where I stood in 1871, and where I stand in 1880. I am in favor of this country keeping at peace with itself. I am opposed to internecine strifes. I was opposed to it in 1861. I am opposed to it now, and if," he added, "they (the Republicans) desire to make the next fight upon the issue of opposing fraternal feeling, the burying of sectional strife and the establishing of a lasting peace, and are determined to re-raise the bloody shirt, I say that for myself, and without any regard to my position in 1861, I am in favor now of accepting such an issue, and making the fight upon it. I would present it to the people as often and as emphatically as possible, and I believe that we would be sustained by an overwhelming majority of the American people."

Sales of Mineral Lands in Southwest Virginia.

The Messrs. Noble have purchased of Mr. J. W. Case, of New York, a tract of 17,000 acres, in Wythe county, Va., for $25,000, and will erect a charcoal furnace and work largely. The William Pierce tract of 2,100 acres has been bought by James M. Crockett & Co., for the sum of $35,000. The Lobdel Car-Wheel Company, of Delaware, have made another purchase, the Huddle tract, for $6,500, and also a tract on New river, known as the Wilkerson Forge property, for $6,500.

Scandal-Mongers in Russia.

The quidnuncs of St. Petersburg are much exercised over the sudden departure from the imperial court of the Countess Hendrikoff, wife of one of the masters of ceremony, who was recently bundled across the frontier in hot haste. It appears that the Countess, who is a bit of a gossip, lately gave it as her opinion that if the Empress were to die the Emperor would in all probability marry the Princess Dolgoronki. This was reported to the Czar, and hence these tears.

The Proposed New Route to Havana.

In regard to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad combination's proposed line to Havana, Vice-President Newcomb, of that road, says: "We shall have that in operation in a very few days, and it must be of great interest to the general public. We will run a special Havana train from New York that will leave that city on Saturday—say after dinner—and land the passengers in Pensacola Monday morning. They will then be taken in fast steamers and put in Havana in two days, making the entire trip in four days or less, and avoiding the long and dangerous sea voyage. We are having freight cars made with passenger trucks, for the purpose of carrying tropical fruits imported at Pensacola to the Eastern and Northwestern markets. We can put this fruit in Chicago and St. Louis four or five days after it is delivered to us at Havana.

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1880,

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Propr

ON our fourth page will be found the correspondence between Col. C. M. McLoud and Hon. D. G. Fowle in relation to the latter's views on the question of selling the Western North Carolina Railroad.

THE campaign has opened early. It is stated that a nephew of Gen. Grant, a young man named Edward Dent, stole a horse and buggy in Washington the other day, and tried to sell them in Baltimore.

AMERICAN print cloths, cotton and cutlery are making their way in the United States of Columbia, to the displacement of British goods, being regarded as of better quality. Our print manufacturers have not yet succeeded in quite suiting the taste of the Colombian senoritas, who, contrary to the general impression, prefer dark colors to grady hues. The Mexican taste is just the reverse of the Colombian.

The following are the times and places of holding party conventions so far as set;

Democratic.

National Convention, Cincinnati, June 22d.

State Convention, Raleigh, June 17th.

Republican.

National Convention, Chicago, June 3d.

State Convention, Raleigh, July 7th.

Fourth Congressional Convention, Raleigh, July 6th.

The Democratic Convention for this Congressional district has not yet been called, but if the usual course is followed it will meet here the day before our State Convention i. e. on June 6th.

THE colored brethren, who have sought refuge in Kansas after their flight from the land of the zip-zipping rifle and the spitter-spatter shot-gun, have been looked over by a correspondent of the Sun, who finds Topeka to have become a sort of pauper colony for the Southern States. Few of the sable gentlemen of expanded leisure can exhibit callused hands, and their speech betrays them as town negroes and not agricultural laborers. The Sun man found the exiles from a sunny but inhospitable land engaged in propping up the business blocks of Topeka teaching unhappy curs of mongre' pedigree to perform various tricks, and in inspecting the labors of the white mechanics at work on Topeka edifices. There is a general complaint that the negroes "cut under" the wages which white men receive, being able to do so from the fact that they and their families are supported by charity. The Sun correspondent has laid his emphasis on the worst half of the story, but the charitable people of other sections ought to hear both sides.

WE are gratified to note the fact that as the terms and probable consequences of the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad become more fully known to the people of the State, there is a daily increasing sentiment in favor of the sale. And we apprehend that by the 15th of this month, when the General Assembly convenes, there will be an overwhelming and irresistible popular demand for the sale. It can hardly be otherwise. When you touch the pockets of the people, you touch them in a very vital and sensitive point, and the response is ordinarily prompt and unmistakable. In the matter now being agitated, the people have not been slow to understand the situation and to realize the advatage that will accrue to them immediately by a decrease of taxation. There is scarcely a neighborhood in all the State that has not felt some ripple of the waves that have resulted from the stirring of the waters consequent upon the Best proposition. And we venture to say that at each neighborhood discussion of the sale and its results, where the question has been understood, there is a prevailing if not generally a unanimous opinion that the sale will be a wise, judicious, and successful effort upon the part of the State to relieve and benefit the people and to foster and subserve the material interests of North Carolina.

We think our estimate of the opinions of the citizens of the State will be found to be correct, when the General Assembly shall meet. The members of that body will be fresh from the people, thoroughly posted as to the opinions and wishes of their constituents and ready and able to vote in accordance with the same. And if we rightly judge the membership of the present Legislature of North Carolina, they will be very apt to do so. We are constrained to think that there is but little doubt of the acceptance and ratification of the contract of sale with Mr. Best and his associates by the General Assembly.

The manner in which the opponents of the sale have conducted their warfare has not strengthened the hands of the opposition. There has been in some instances an apparent inclination to descend to personalities in the discussion instead of debating the question upon its naked merits, and there have been some over-zealous opponents of the sale who have charged those who believe that it is necessary, with selfish and unpatriotic impulses. We have deprecated this method of conducting the discussion of a great question of public policy, and we are glad to say that it has gone for nothing. Its injustice was transparent from the outset and it has weakened the argument of those who have indulged in it. The people consider this question as one above party politics, and one to be discussed and settled without reference to political considerations.

The sale will be made. The contract will be completed with guarantees tha will be satisfactory, and this will be done because the people demand it. They only ask that the completion of the road in its entirety shall be secured. To their representatives they leave the perfecting of the details of the bargain. And after the sale is consummated and the neigh of the iron horse heard beyond the mountains—after the beneficent results consequent upon the work shall have begun to show themselves, we shall expect to see many of those who are now loud-mouthed in their opposition, either confess the error of their ways, or else in a quiet way deny their former opinions and intimate that from the beginning they conceived it to be a measure that was fraught with good and not evil to the people of the State, and the NEWS promises in advance never to twit them about their inconsistency.

Doctors Will Differ.

The following characteristic letter speaks for itself; is plain English; needs no interpreter. Read it:

NEW MADISON, OHIO, February 18, 1880.

Messrs. Landrum & Litchfield, Abingdon, Va.:—Gentlemen: Inclosed find $5.00 for another half dozen bottles of the Seven Springs "Iron and Alum Mass." My wife's health is better this winter than it has been for years, and I have spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and physicians' bills, but the "Iron and Alum Mass" is the cheapest remedy I have found, and has done the most good, consequently I am encouraged to continue its use, notwithstanding our family physician says it is for RICH PEOPLE with nothing much the matter with them. Well, we are not rich, and I suppose it operates differently on POOR PEOPLE. My wife has been an invalid for years, and is getting better "Doctors will differ." Send me the MASS. Experience is better than logic. Respectfully,

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gualemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day.

E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

For Sale.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large store-rooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 SAW COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 80 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each, situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

Police Court.

David Barham is a "culud inderwidual" who not infrequentiy "takes on too much." He is a great advocate of States rights and is the self chosen especial champion of what he terms the State's right to sell its own Railroads. Davis is considerable of an orator too, in his way; but the police don't appreciate his eloquence. His stentorian lungs were blasting forth a most divine and soul inspiring harangue on the "Chief end of Man," when an untutored "cop" happened along and "gathered him in." It was rainy and the policeman thought it was outrageous for a man of his social and political station to expose himself in such weather, so he spent the night with the turnkey at the station house. Dave was released by his Honor yesterday morning at the usual levee.

Judge Fowle on the Railroad Sale

The following correspondence explains itself:

Hon, Daniel G. Fowle:

MY DEAR SIR: If agreeable to you. I would be pleased to learn whether or not you are in favor of the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad, on the terms proposed by Mr. Best in case none better should be offered.

An early reply will greatly oblige,

Yours very truly,

C. M. MCLOUD,

Raleigh, N. C. March 4.

Col. C. M. MCLOUD—

Dear Sir: In reply to your communication, just received, asking my views as to the sale of the Western N. C. Railroad, I have to say:

That in the speech delivered by me at Hendersonville on the 4th of July last, in the presence of an immense concourse of the people of Western North Carolina, I took occasion to express my earnest desire for the early completion of the Ducktown line of railroad, as well as the road to Paint Rock.

The completion of the road to Paint Rock is assured in any event, but there is a fear that the Ducktown line will be abandoned unless a sale of the road is made. I am, therefore, in favor of selling the road upon the best terms the Legislature can obtain.

In doing so special care should be taken that the guarantees are sufficient to compel the completion of the Ducktown line, so that the fertile and magnificent country through which it will run may be made acceptable to the world. Respectfully, yours,

DAN'L G. FOWLE.

An Agricultural Senator.

The Delaware Sugar-Beet Company is in receipt of a letter from Senator Edmunds, in which he says he is greatly interested in the culture of the beet and the manufacture of domestic sugar therefrom, and expresses the hope that they will prove entirely successful. The letter was called for by a sample of Delaware sugar which the Senator saw at the Smithsonian Institute. Additional samples have been forwarded to him and other members of Congress.

He Has Lost the Confidence of the South.

Memphis Appeal.

Tilden has lost the confidence of the South and cannot regain it. His nomination would be equivalent to defeat. He will not receive the support of one Southern State, not even of Kentucky, where the Courier-Journal is, as it were, moving heaven and earth for him.

The Boston newspapers tell of a stage-struck woman who got a divorce from her husband in order to become an actress, failed dismally behind the footlights, returned to her home, and begged to be made a wife again, which was done by a remarriage.

Parole Still the Favorite.

LONDON, March 1.—Under an impression which gained currency on Saturday that Parole might not after all carry Mr. Lorillard's colors in the Lincoln Handicap, he receded in the betting, and at one time 100 to 6 was freely offered against him. Mr. Lorillard having been forestalled in the market and being unable to bet satisfactorily had decided not to start the horse. The Sportsman to-day says: Parole's backers need feel no uneasiness. He will certainly start, and in view of his satisfactory condition will certainly run well. Under this assurance the market regained confidence and the horse quickly assumed first place at 12 to 1.

Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass

This most excellent remedy is becoming more popular with our people every day. It is one of the few medicines that improves on acquaintance—the more one knows of it, the more its virtues are appreciated. Everybody who has given it a fair trial, speak well of it. Our druggists sell large quantities of it. People are not afraid to use a medicine that they know to be efficient for their ailments, and at the same time harmless in its nature. Read what is so aptly said of it, in another column of this paper. Truth is mighty and will prevail. feb27 tf

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long-felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
